

Sentence Diagraming

Lesson 1 - Dividing Subject and Predicate

Name _____

declarative

imperative

interrogative

exclamatory

Directions: Divide all sentences with a slash mark. Label each sentence either declarative, imperative, interrogative, or exclamatory. If the sentence is interrogative, change it into a declarative sentence before dividing with a slash mark (see example). If the sentence is imperative, follow the example below.

Interrogative Example

Do you like ice cream? \longrightarrow You / do like ice cream.

Imperative Example

Raise your hand. \longrightarrow (You) / Raise your hand.

1. Everyone in the gym cheered.
2. Look at all those fans.
3. Did you see that shot?
4. The fans gave the team a hand.
5. The man wanted to be a boxer.
6. Will he make it to the ring?
7. The trainer saved the day!
8. Will the fighter finally get some respect?
9. Give the announcer you attention.
10. Study your script for the play tomorrow.